

Sophia

Juke Ross

They don't know you like I do
I know that your heart burns true
Still they try to send their waves off to you
When evening falls I know where your demons crawl
Can't deny it that you fight them face on
When all is done and said you're all mine
And ignore their greasy eyes
And cherish your all
While we grow still

Sophia

Might be gone tonight but I'm never far from your arms
Sophia, know I said goodbye but I'll never forget you
My Sophia

Swear that I won't slip away
The essence of your heart will always stay safe with my lungs
And within my veins
When the crowds are gone and we are alone
By your side I rest my bones
Take our spot in the grass and watch 'til the leaves grow
So when I'm on my knees can't see the forest from the trees, just like the breeze
You know you pick me up with easy

Sophia

Might be gone tonight but I'm never far from your arms
Sophia, I know I said goodbye but I'll never forget you
My Sophia, Sophia, my Sophia

Sophia, my Sophia

I might be gone tonight but I'm never far from your arms
Sophia, I might be gone tonight but I'm never far from your arms
Sophia, I know I said goodbye but I'll never forget you

My Sophia
