

Friends Again

Jukebox the Ghost

One day down the line, both still wondering why you got lazy and so did I
It's time we put in the time
Put all the drama aside, we could both apologize though neither remembers why
It's gotta be worth a try

What was our problem again, and when did it begin?
Can broken pieces mend? What if we were friends again?

Playing a party at Brian's place, you talked me through my first heartbreak
I swear to God I think you saved my life that night
What if we were friends we were friends
Yeah what if we were friends, what if we were friends again?

Am I remembering right? All those Saturday nights, learning to smoke and turning white and falling asleep upright
Breaking onto the roof, if the cops come I'll cover for you and if we do a little time at least we had a hell of a night

What was our problem again, and when did it begin?
Can broken pieces mend? What if we were friends again?

Playing a party at Brian's place, you talked me through my first heartbreak
I swear to God I think you saved my life that night
What if we were friends, we were friends
Yeah what if we were friends what if we were friends again?
