Girl

Jukebox the Ghost

So you say you've never been in love?
That you don't even know what that means
You thought you did but now that it's over you think
Can't even be half of the real thing
And as time goes on and on I can feel my heart growing colder and colder
But then I see your face in the crowd, I think
How could I be starting over?
Cause when you meet someone new
It all just takes over you
And you think that you never really tried
Open your heart
Open your mind

Girl, you're gonna take me back to a time when I loved and I meant it
Girl, you're gonna save me
Give me a chance, it's worth taking
Girl, you're gonna take me back to a time when I loved and I meant it
Girl, you're gonna save me
Gimme a chance, it's worth taking, oh

And we always say the same old things
And we always use the same tired lines
Stayin' up all night, talkin' it out
Endin' up with no one on our side

And as time goes on and on, I can feel my heart growing colder and colder
But then I see your face in the crowd, I think
I'm gonna be starting over
Cause when you meet someone new
It all just takes over you
And you think that you never really tried
Open your heart
Open your mind

Girl, you're gonna take me back to a time when I loved and I meant it
Girl, you're gonna save me
Give me a chance, it's worth taking
Girl, you're gonna take me back to a time when I loved and I meant
Girl, you're gonna save me
Gimme a chance, it's worth taking, oh

Cause when you meet someone new
It all just takes over you
And you think that you never really tried
And you think that you never really tried
And you think that you never really tried
Open your heart
Open your mind

Girl, you're gonna take me back to a time when I loved and I meant it
Girl, you're gonna save me
Give me a chance, it's worth taking Girl, you're gonna take me back to a time when I loved and I meant (when I l oved and I)
Girl, you're gonna save me
Gimme a chance, it's worth taking, oh
