

Made For Ending

Jukebox the Ghost

Starts with a phone call I asked if you'd been crying and you denied it but I could tell just from your breathing that's how it all starts
that's how it all starts

As for the mending
I think we shouldn't even bother
Let's make it simple let's make it easy on each other

I should have known right from the start that we were made for ending
I should have known right from the start that we were made for
ending

We talked it over we talked until we couldn't speak Let's make it simple
we don't need the time to think it over Let's make it easy on each other
let's make it simple

ending
I should have known right from the start that we were made for
ending

Let's cut it off; no use in making up; let's stop pretending
ending

We gave it our best but it brought out our worst so when the world starts crumbling and won't start tumbling down maybe we'll both be better, both be better off I should have known that this was made for ending

I should have known right from the start that we were made for
ending
I should have known right from the start that we were made for
ending

Let's cut it off; no use in making up; let's stop pretending
ending
