

Ramona

Jukebox the Ghost

Oh Ramona, oh Ramona, do you feel like the world is just too much for you?

Come over, we can lay in bed and watch whatever you want to

Oh Ramona, do you feel like a storm is out there and growing?

Ramona, is the world outside your window too much to cope with?

Oh Ramona, are you strung out? Is it too hard to stay sober, Ramona?

Let it out, let it out, don't be afraid to get closer

Oh Ramona, take a moment, have you had too much exposure?

Ramona, some days are just too heavy to carry

Oh, take a little, take a little, take a little, take a little time

From the world, from the world, from the world, from the world

Oh, take a little, take a little, take a little, take a little time

From the world, from the world, from the world, from the world

Oh Ramona, oh Ramona, is it just me or is the sun a little bit closer and warmer?

Let's get away, don't say that I didn't warn you

Oh Ramona, did you notice the stars hang a bit lower on the water?

Let's run away while we still can

Oh, take a little, take a little, take a little, take a little time

From the world, from the world, from the world, from the world

Oh, take a little, take a little, take a little, take a little time

From the world, from the world, from the world, from the world

Oh Ramona, oh Ramona, we could get out and hope that it passes over

Ramona, hide away and watch it all go down from the water

Oh Ramona, we could take our time and watch each other get older by the ocean

Just wait it out to see the world that's left over
