You should throw in the towel, you just don't know better
Well, actually you do but you like acting all innocent
I did you favors without asking
When the tables turn, shoot me down like an assassin
See you getting mad

He a sore loser 'cause he knows I'm blowing past him
Constantly seeking validation is out of fashion
Now you want a session but that shit will never happen

Changing motives when you realized you couldn't have it
Running right back to me, bad habit
Said how I feel, that's a wrap (Yeah)

I know you waiting up praying on magic
You should put time in
Time and time again
Your results looking average
Hit me for advice but it's more of a distraction
