

Kill You Off

Julia Wolf

I just left and moved on
To kill you off
To kill you off
To kill you off
I was fragmented by a four year old man

Miss Tangy in here gettin' some letters in this whine, turn up

Three thousand miles to kill you off
The dark you left, I was so young
Watching you bleed, an adrenaline rush
Three thousand miles to kill you (Tuned up with quintuple platinum)

The static in my mind turned the TV off
Flipping through the channels from memory loss
Shadows shift, lose friends like I'm Ross
I'm so lost deep in the fog
Real dark, real dim, all my innocence
Too bad my brain's in the thick of it
Real dark, real dim, I was just a kid
You came down the tree, you were slitherin' (I'm planning to leave a face scar)

Three thousand miles to kill you off
The dark you left, I was so young
Watching you bleed, an adrenaline rush
Three thousand miles to kill you
Three thousand miles to kill you off
The dark you left, I was so young
Watching you bleed, an adrenaline rush
Three thousand miles to kill you

Keep the blade, passing signs that say
"Jesus sees, He hates," He might hate me
(Sent me forty Benadryl)

Can't put the wolves on the silver screen (Be for real, baby)
I think it's really eighteen, paramedic, milli drive there's nothing to Head to another planet, it made me extra crucial
Heaven in a glove box, stuck in the mill (Now I see spots)
Now they calling on me ageless, away from home
We don't make around the willow tree anymore
I don't make this, sipping this (Now where did you find that legal fee core?)

Meet me in the mack to get to the lord
Singing way too much, took away my sight
There ain't no insides
Hollow at the core, now I'm empty for you

Three thousand miles to kill you off
The dark you left, I was so young
Watching you bleed, an adrenaline rush
Three thousand miles to kill you off

To kill you off, to kill you off
To kill you off, to kill you off (I was fragmented by a four year old man)
