

Sad Too Young

Julia Wolf

Throat closing up make a b line for the bathroom
Bump a couple shoulders who cares when you're losing your mind
I closed the stall like I closed off the world
And I waited for my palms to dry

They don't know the panic
Put me on the spot
Lose all of my senses
Say one thing wrong
Orbits in me like a planet
Like a planet
I can never be candid
In your bed and you asked a simple question
Feel fucking dumb when my body won't answer it
And the look that you give isn't helping

Cause I wanna tell you things I just can't yet
If you don't got the patience I get it
Cause I wanna tell you things, all these secrets
I just can't claw my way out this casket

I got sad too young
Been leaking out love
Since I was a kid
I got sad too young
Been leaking out love
Now I can't find it in me

Sleep walking through my youth
I can't remember half of my life
All the stories they said I was there for Got lost while I was tryna stay alive

And I wanna tell you things I just can't yet
If you don't got the patience I get it
Cause I wanna tell you things, all these secrets
I just can't claw my way out this casket

I got sad too young
Been leaking out love
Since I was a kid
I got sad too young
Been leaking out love
Now I can't find it in me

The hourglass in my lungs won't let me be, be
Everyone around here breathing easy, easy
The hourglass in my lungs won't let me be, be
Everyone around here breathing easy
