

Nintendo Blood

Julian Casablancas

Her eyes were black and white and blue
I listen to your favorite songs backwards
Do you have a plan for who to surrender to?
I've been training for you...

It won't stop now

Imprisoned us in a song
Asleep in the dead of wrong
No return beyond this point
In theory

Will you drift into that dark war-path,
When the blood runs down their face sideways?
As the party stays in the city forever, it seems Like ugly hippy neon art

We let the schoolboys in your eyes run out
When you asked me to blow smoke in your mouth
Like anybody the gloves I find I try
Can you think back to that time?

I was so angry I got up and out of bed
I spent 25 minutes reading what you said
A face I know so well, I've memorized your teeth
I've worked so hard I haven't looked at you in weeks

Will you solve your problems in the day-light?
They like to change the rules as they go
By chapter 2 he got killed by the author
Mamma won't let me out

Take me in your android arms mom-Jeanette
Made up of every lonely person you've met
Of every pretty stranger you'll never regret -
I can't help it, it's not my fault, gotta be possessive
Each man for his own, arm in arm in arms

Imprisoned us in a song
Asleep in the dead of wrong
Motha-f. Don't page me tonite
Don't stop, react, attack.

"When man has conquered the earth he will have destroyed himself
His appetite will devour the earth and leave behind only a desert
The end of living & the beginning of surviving,
Our land, our brother we treat like an enemy
But "when man has conquered the earth he will have destroyed himself
The end of living & the beginning of surviving..."

Our land is a brother we treat like an enemy - oh oh
Cause nothing exists except molecules and empty space - oh oh

The moon is cracked I think it looked at me and grinned
The room is packed I look around and now it spins
Cyborg, I need to sit down, I need to shut up
Universe everything's wrong, I think I fucked up

Only trust myself
Level with myself
Level with myself
I am not myself
