

Recall

Julie Anne San Jose

The clock was ticking only to realize
That time was passing by
And so were memories running in my head
Oh running in my head
The nights turn into days but I wait here
Staring how those days turned gray
And everything was cold and dark
Oh baby so was your heart

In my mind
I forgot how love could change my heart
In my mind
I forgot how did we fall apart

So here I am standing on my own
I try to cry but see I have no one to lean on so
I recall, oh baby I recall
And here I ask why do I keep trying?
When I'm all alone with everything I'm facin'
So I recall, ohh baby I recall
When you were here
I recall when you were here

I try to throw away
The things that make me come back
To your sweet embrace
But every time that I say
The only thing that I could say

So here I am standing on my own
I try to cry but see I have no one to lean on so
I recall, oh baby I recall
And here I ask why do I keep trying?
When I'm all alone with everything I'm facin'
So I recall, ohh baby I recall
When you were here

I recall, I recall
The promises that we made for each other for each other

So here I am, why do I keep trying?
When I'm all alone with everything I'm facin'
So I recall, oh baby I recall
I recall When you were here
