

Moonless

Julie Byrne

That night at the old hotel
I'd been learning you by heart
Voices rising through the smoke
Tables caving in
I found it there in the room with you
Whatever eternity is

All these netted gems
I found a life there in the room with you

The sky is moonless
And the sea surrounds me
What does it matter the story?
If your absence remains
I feel it right here
What eternity becomes

I'm not waiting for your love
I'm not waiting for your love

I watch each particle move
Easy to say it's taking everything to do
I watch each particle move
Pools of a moment widen through the air to you