

Where Are You?

Julie Doiron

Oh, my baby, where are you?
You've been working hard
To make your dreams come true
Oh, baby, I'm so far from you
And I'm working hard
To show you that I can work hard, too

Now, I know that I haven't
Always done things right
And I hope that you might
Have seen my light
'Cause it's all I have to give to you
Yes, it's all I have to give to you

Oh, my baby, you've given me your love
And it's more than I could've dreamed
More than enough
Oh, my baby, you've taken me into your life
And I want to be as good to you
As you are to me

Now, I know that I haven't
Always done things right
And I hope that you might
Have seen my light
'Cause it's all I have to give to you
Yes, it's all I have to give to you
Now, I know that I haven't
Always done things right
And I hope that you might
Have seen my light
'Cause it's all I have to give to you
Yes, it's all I have to give to you