

You Gave Me the Key

Julie Doiron

There was never a plan
No need to explain
And I here I am
Starting over again
From the eyes of a baby
From the eyes of a bird
From the tops of the trees
From the curbs in the street
There was never a plan
Starting over again
No, never a plan

Well, your eyes, they helped me
They helped me to see
How to begin
Starting over again
Yeah, your eyes, they showed me
The life all around me
And your words
They made me believe
That there's life all around me
And there's life all within me
There's no need to explain, there is no need
You don't have to explain, you gave me the key
Now I can see
Yeah, I can see
Now I can see
Yeah, I can see
I'm starting over again