

Where Am I to Go?

Julie London

Where am I to go?
And what am I to do?
Without you
The world I knew revolved
About you
Oh, where am I to go?

How was I to know?
The word you spoke were words
For dreamers
Just words designed for
Idol schemers
Oh, how was I to know?

I should've known from the start
I'd be riding for a fool again
But still I led with my heart
And you were there to count to ten

Don't think I ever felt so low
The blues have settled deep within me
I pray that peace of mind will win me
Time heals, everything I know

But until the time comes
Where am I to go?
