

Unbroken

Juliet Simms

Sleeping off on the bed
Crawl back into my head
And lie there
Shut my eyes
Seek oblivion

I blamed you and everyone
For the mess that I've become and my waste of time
Trying to stay numb

I needed protection
From myself
From holding your salvation

Unbroken
This is it, I'm done
Standing in the headlight of my past again
I can't abandon

I've been frozen
I'm tired of holding back
And I am waking up to see it's you and me Unbroken

On the brink of transition
Wear my pain like religion
And I scream, accept defeat
I knew this day would come

I wipe myself from the floor
One last check for the door
I tell myself one day
I'll know what this is for

I'm left unguarded with you
I'm gonna try so hard

Unbroken
This is it, I'm done
Standing in the headlight of my past
I can't abandon

I've been frozen
I'm tired of holding back
And I am waking up to see it's you and me Unbroken

(Unbroken)

(Unbroken)

(Broken)

Unbroken
This is it, I'm done
Standing in the headlight of my past
I can't abandon

I've been frozen

I'm tired of holding back
And I am waking up to see it's you and me Unbroken

Unbroken
This is it, I'm done
Standing in the headlight of my past
I can't abandon

I've been frozen
I'm tired of holding back
And I am waking up to see it's you and me Unbroken
