

Human Side

July Talk

There's a crack in the wall
At the end of the hall
Yer combat boots have come untied
If yer small like a child and you swallow yer pride
Humble yerself to the light

There's a crack in the wall
At the end of it all
Make me wrong, it won't make you right
If yer small like a fly and you hover inside
Humble yourself to the light

It gets so hard
I can't see at all I can't see at all
But I know the story I can tell it with my eyes closed
I can't feel at all I can't feel at all
You say yer never sorry I can see it where yer mind goes
Give in to somebody you can let those tired eyes close
No need to bear resemblance to the ones that damaged you most

Turn if off
Voice of doubt
Twist shout cause they can handle it
Climb out of yer comfort
Yer control
Bare your soul
And bring out that human side

There's a crack in the wall
At the end of it all
Yer combat boots have come undone
That makes a million and one reasons to run
Humble yerself to the light

It gets so hard
I can't see at all I can't see at all

Swallow heaven
Drink it up
Crawl out of yer kingdom you can handle it
Turn if off
Voice of doubt
Bleed it out
Bring out that human side

Oh no
Here it comes
Do you feel it?
Start to shake

There's a hole in the sky
Up in the sky
And we don't know what it means
But I know that I'm terrified

What are you so worried about?
What's there not to worry about!

What are you so worried about?

Baby don't worry
To live is to live in fear
Baby life is sweet whenever death is near
Get free what you need too late to live in fear
Baby life is sweet whenever death is near
Baby don't worry
To live is to live in fear
Baby life's so sweet
To live is to live in fear
