

Closer

June

Maybe it's possible to see a bond destroyed once more
You're too scared of getting closer
It's getting too hard to ignore
I ask, "How do you live?"
"Will you ever walk away from it?"
Watching the lines all disappear
And don't consider it severe

I'll make this turn out the way it has to be

So
So think of your last move and I'll make my plans
See, I leave you behind me

So now I've got to fix, got to fix all this
Fix what's holding me back
Fix what you've become
And now I'm turning into, what you want in me
As you're watching the lines disappear

So
So you make your last move and I'll make my plans
See, I leave you behind me
It's time to go
It seems so intriguing but I built this myself
See, I leave you behind me

So listen to me now, try to follow my lead
When I close my eyes comfort carries over me
Cause I can feel inside a sense of a waking dream
Can you admit that you were wrong again?
Can you admit to the fact that you can't answer now and then?
I'll make this turn out the way it has to be

So you make your last move and I'll make my plans
See, I leave you behind me
It's time to go
It seems so intriguing but I built this myself
See, I leave you behind me

Try to understand
That nothing is going as planned
And now its all so clear to me
I've lost all control
And it's already too late
It's already far too late