

Under Violent Snow

Júníus Meyvant

Under violent snow
You met me with a song to sing away from home
It's only you I know
Who wouldn't turn a blind eye on me when I stood alone

You owe me nothing, oh, no

Under shooting stars
You taught me how to Turn my cheek away from scars
You left too soon
So quick
I couldn't find a tune to paint your bloom

You owe the world nothing, oh, no
You owe this world nothing, no

Soon I let go
You build me up
From head to toe

Now you're on my mind
Night and day
All the time

Under violent snow
You met me with a song to sing to break away
If only you would know
The joy, the love you left in my heart to stay

You owe me nothing, oh, no
You owe the world nothing, oh, no

Soon I let go
You build me up
From head to toe

Now you're on my mind
Night and day
Till the end of time

Under violent snow
You met me with a song to sing away from home
It's only you I know
Who wouldn't turn a blind eye on me when I stood alone

You owe me nothing, oh, no
You owe this world nothing, oh, no