

karma

juno

(Hallow)

Don't know what to say to you
I been overthinking things up in my head
Like everyone's the feds
Used to go to sleep and I would

Don't know what to say to you
I been overthinking things up in my head
You sent me a couple texts I swear I never read
And I been paranoid like everyone's the feds
Used to go to sleep and I would dream of being dead
Then I wake up
Every single day, it feels the same like nothing changed up
Lying to my face, man, you can never keep it straight up
Karma got a price and everybody gotta pay up
I think that I gave up

And she like, "Juno, why you like that?"
She like, "Juno, can I ask your where you mind's at?"
And I been tryna make the right track
 Fucked up, wishing I could get the time back
And she knows I don't got no purity
Wish I could fade into obscurity
She said that she wish I had more maturity
I told her to be honest, I just

Don't know what to say to you
I been overthinking things up in my head
You sent me a couple texts I swear I never read
And I been paranoid like everyone's the feds
Used to go to sleep and I would dream of being dead
Then I wake up
Every single day, it feels the same like nothing changed up
Lying to my face, man, you can never keep it straight up
Karma got a price and everybody gotta pay up
I think that I gave up