

Krystal Skull

Just Jack

You can feel it coming on
Even if it don't work that way
Playin's all we've ever known
Keeping up with the losing game
Sipping wine from my krystal skull
In the middle of nothing real
You can feel the magnet pull
Riding up on wings of steel

And I don't even know you
But if you let me I can show you who you are
And I'm not even sure
That I remember what you're doing in my car
But we can ride home
And we can ride home
Oh we can ride home
On an endless wave
On an endless wave
On an endless wave

My hearts a broken metronome
Beating in this crooked time
Drowning in your pheromones
Consciousness is no longer mine
Sipping wine from my krystal skull
In the middle of nothing real
Falling into the rarest hole
Knowing that my fate is sealed

She said don't make me take you to a dark place
You won't ever get enough with one taste
She said don't make me take you to a dark place
You won't ever get enough with one taste

And I don't even know you
But if you let me I can show you who you are
And I'm not even sure
That I remember what you're doing in my car
But we can ride home
And we can ride home
Oh we can ride home
On an endless wave
On an endless wave
On an endless wave
