

One In Three (Better Alone)

Just Jack

She got a letter just this morning
Telling her it's finally over
Should have read the early warning
That boy was never sober
Feels like it was only this morning
They were calling lovers names
And while the sun is still setting in the sky
They go their separate ways
And she's free
And she's free

He got a letter just this morning
Telling him it's finally through
Should have read the earlier warning
That girl was bad news
Feels like it was only this morning
They were playing lovers games
And while the sun is still setting in the sky
They go their separate ways
And he's free
And he's free

Better alone
