

Ready to Be

Justin Currie

Praise heaven babe, it's still alive

A good man's just a great disguise

Look down deep in his eyes you'll see

And your friends who say I'm bad

Why don't you tell them all you've been had?

Why don't you tell them what I am is what they see?

'Cause I'm ready to be,

The devil they've been seeing in me

Look closer it's still alright

That ain't a twinkle that you see at night

Ask me again if I think they're right, you'll see

'Cause I'm ready to be,

The devil they've been seeing in me

Whatever they've been seeing, I know him

He lives between the moments,

When I'm an angel in silence

He's climbing over the railway fence

Trying to dispose of the evidence

Trying to compose it so it all makes sense

Trying to get ready to be, ready to be
