

Insecure

Justin Nozuka

Life with you from a distance
Is getting less than I'm giving
I hope my doubts of us don't show
I'm so glad that you're winning
That upscale life you're living
Tell me does it beat being home

You never call me no more
You don't wait on me no more
Don't you realize
These days I feel so unsure
Feeding off your allure
How'd I get so damn insecure

How'd I get so insecure
When it feels like I'm losing you
Our love used to be so pure

We don't text like we used to
We don't send each other love tunes
I'm feeling afraid
That you're feeling a way
I wonder do you love me
When I'm feeling blue
Is it ugly how I'm into you
I'm worried you're uncomfortable
Funny now I feel it too

You never call me no more
You don't wait on me no more
Don't you realize
I've had enough of this confusion
Got me trapped in this delusion
How'd I get so damn insecure

How'd I get so insecure
These days it feels like I'm losing you
Our love used to be so pure
Remember when we used to meet in the middle
Now I'm only asking you to give a little
This feels like torture
I know true love comes deep from within me
But right now it feels like
Your love is the only cure
