

ORANGE LAMPSHADE

Justin Nozuka

Feels like common sense to lick my wounds
Orange lampshade lighting up the room
Days are infinity when they end on you

Moments fly by like shooting stars
Going down in a blaze
You might miss it from where you are
When you're caught in a chase

Orange lampshade lighting up
Days are infinity when they end on you

Moments fly by like shooting stars
Going down in a blaze
You might miss it from where you are
When you're caught in a chase

Is there any way to get there on your own
To be there are all alone in life
Girl I'd rather stay
And make it through the storm
And be here all alone with you
With you

Street lamps out we might get lost
Let's stay here or lets take off

Street lamps out we might get lost
Let's stay here or lets take off
