

Never Want To Leave Home

Justin Sane

I find out more lately
That I
Cant fall asleep
when i'm lying next to you Lying next to you

But it's not because the scent of your hair that I love so much
No It's cuz i know that im gonna miss you
Do you remember the first time we met?
You looked so distressed
I offered out my help to find your missing car
But that
That was just an excuse to talk to you

Now when i have to leave
When i have to go
When i have to dissappear from your sight for some weeks and months
When i have to sleep all alone take showers by myself
Watch passions with no one else
Those are the times that i feel so alone
Those are the days i never want to leave home
