

You Don't Know

Justin Stone

Yeah

When those lights are low, we get lit
City views in my town making me trip
Yeah, from the Midwest, now we worldwide
On the east now, spreading to the north side

When those lights are low
When those lights are low
When those lights are low
I keep saying
I keep saying

You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
On the long nights to get to where we'll go

When those lights are low
When those lights are low
When those lights are low

Yeah, going back to those nights down in that basement
On a wave now, thanking God for my placement
Yeah, on the grind, every night we gonna make it out
Yeah they used to hate, but I bet they feel it now

When those lights are low
When those lights are low
When those lights are low
I keep saying
I keep saying

You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
You don't know
You don't, you don't know
On the long nights to get to where we'll go
On the long nights to get to where we'll go

When those lights are low

When those lights are low
When those lights are low