Inside Your Mind

Justincase

I know you lie awake at night
Counting stars but
You know they're only satellites
They don't hear wishes

You don't ever see
What's in front of you
Maybe eventually
You'll come around

I've tried everything but somehow
You find a way to shut me out
This time maybe you will let me
Get inside your mind, inside your mind

Somewhere behind your silent eyes
There's a story
I swear that I can help you write
The perfect ending

You know I believe
In every part of you
Maybe eventually
You'll come around

All your hidden passions
All your quiet fashions
All your blushing beauty
All you're doing to me
