Super Momma

K'jon

Don’t know how you did it (but you did) some way you managed (you managed) to raise six kids and serve out on this planet they named you Lillian You must have been heaven sent God is your friend cause he gave you the strength stronger than Winnie Mandela you’re my Michelle Obama you’re one bad super mama

So today I’m giving you flowers
I don’t want to wait ’til tomorrow
I love you so
Mama I love you so
So today I’m giving you flowers
I don’t want to wait ’til tomorrow
I love you so
Mama I love you so
Mama I love you so

you waited twenty years twenty years living in fear now its on your son is home now and you put family first some people try to make you hurt (make it worst) they don’t know you (they don’t know your worth) you’re Chaka Khan you’re every woman warm just like the summer you gotta be the 9th wonder

so today I’m giving you flowers
I don’t want to wait ’til tomorrow
I love you so
Mama I love you so
so today I’m giving you flowers
I don’t want to wait ’til tomorrow
I love you so
Mama I love you so
Mama I love you so

you were always there for us faithfully you love every one of us so equally so gotta let you know you’re so beautiful
I don’t want to wait until tomorrow
Mama I love you so we love you so and we want to let you know mama we love you so and wanta let you know Grand mama
we love you so and wanta let you know Grand mama

[Spoken:]
Ma as Livy would say but to me you’ll always be my lil vill Sister Jay... we been through so much Ma... you’ve been with me through every trial and hard time I love you dearly…thank you so much for being there Aways Mom you know you’ve been here for me (and me!)

Hey Momma... what we eatin' tonight?
what you cooking?
what you got for me?
lemme get a dollar (Mommy) when hope seemed to be fading you always reminded us…whom to look to Ma... we love you!
