OL'55

K's Choice

On my mind all went so quickly, I went licketly splickly, out to my old '55

I pulled away slowly, feeling so holy, God knows, I was feeling alive

And now the sun's coming up, I'm riding with Lady Luck,

on a freeway, cars and trucks,

Stars beginning to fade,

and I leave the parade

Just a wishing I'd stayed a little longer,

Oh, don't you know, the feeling's getting stronger

It's six in the morning, you gave me no warning;

I had to be on my way

Trucks are all passing, and the lights are all flashing,

I'm on my way home from your place.

And now the sun's coming up, I'm riding with Lady Luck,

on a freeway, cars and trucks,

Stars beginning to fade,

and I leave the parade

Just a wishing I'd stayed a little longer,

Oh, don't you know, the feeling's getting stronger

On my mind all went so quickly, I went licketly splickly, out to my old '55

I pulled away slowly, feeling so holy, God knows, I was feeling alive

And now the sun's coming up, I'm riding with Lady Luck,

on a freeway, cars and trucks,

Stars beginning to fade,

and I leave the parade

Just a wishing I'd stayed a little longer,

Oh, don't you know, the feeling's getting stronger

Sponzor: www.srovnavac.cz - vyberte si pojištění online!