

I'm in the sky if you really need to find me, right now
I got high, I'm close to God, she's beside me, right now
I killed my ego years ago, I had to murder my pride
See when you running from yourself, oh no there's nowhere to hide
I'm in the sky if you really tryna find me, right now

Say where you go
I've been locked away, I stay up in my zone
What you know
Packed my bags and got the show up on the road
I just go in, still gon' play my role and
I can only vouch for me and mine, I don't know them
I just follow signs now, had to take a timeout
I been on a dark path, looking for a lighthouse
I be with the villains, chilling with 'em highkey
Ask 'em how they feelin', I don't think they like me

I'm in the sky if you really need to find me, right now
I got high, I'm close to God, she's beside me, right now
I killed my ego years ago, I had to murder my pride
See when you running from yourself, oh no there's nowhere to hide
I'm in the sky if you really tryna find me, right now

Your impatience is not a virtue, it's gon' hurt you, ain't you learn from mistakes?
Tell 'em I fell down and got back up then fell back down once a gain
Irregardless of how you feelin', I'm runnin' in a race for the photo finish
I could never buckle under ceilings or let them kill me
Or see the real me, the ill speech that I speak is vague
It's evident that we been at it for years
Went to battle, took some losses, giving in to my fears
You just call it like you see it when your vision is clear
It's a blessing and a burden, I thank God that we here

I'm in the sky if you really need to find me, right now
I got high, I'm close to God, she's beside me, right now
I killed my ego years ago, I had to murder my pride
See when you running from yourself, oh no there's nowhere to hide
I'm in the sky if you really tryna find me, right now
