

I Need Ya

K.A.A.N.

Ooooh, home again
Ooooh, home again
Ooooh, home again
Ooooh, home again

Cause I need ya, Lawd
Cause I need you
I go and float away
Inside my mind
I'm lost away in space
Can't waste no time

Away I float I know I go I know, I know
But away I go I float I say I know, I know

I might be in over my head
I'm having visions that I'm painting in red
Lost on the road and I feel like I been estranged
So I need ya
Everything ain't always as it seems
I see the scene for the way it is
These women they don't pay attention to ya
Need enough so we can get another hit
Everything ain't always as it seems
I see the scene for the way it is
These women they don't pay attention to ya
Need enough so we can get another hit

Away I float I know I go I know, I know
But away I go I float I say I know, I know

Don't let me fall
Don't go away
Now don't you leave, nah
Don't let me fall
Don't go away
Now don't you leave, nah

Everything ain't always as it seems with the bright lights
Young nigga only tryna lead the high life
Everything ain't what it seems with the bright lights
Young nigga lead astray by the bright lights
Oh Lord
I'm feeling like
Young nigga really thought he had a better life
Young nigga I been working for a better life
Young nigga really thought he had a better life
Eh

Look, the feelings tainted, the picture's painted, the well's dry
We need water, perceive order, the truth comes

Love I spread it out, y'all don't really feel me though
Fantasies are false or fake but we believe in all of them
Let me check the cheque and stress while I stretch on an ottoman
Dream a life of luxury we were never accustomed to Salary man blowing my line up plus the rent is due
I pay that bitch when I got it, looking for streams of revenue
Still unemployed since I graduated to tell the truth
I probably never use the diploma up on my wall, y'all
The art that I'm giving is judged by them all
Sending judgin' sinners, why they throwin' stones at my glass house?
Trying to take my character down like the twin towers
My drive is a twin turbo
The turbulence I can weather that Triggered with these weak ass bitches, nigga never that
I hear hail high like a pie in the sky mentality
Don't you hold your breath or waste my time
I been on a bender of honesty let me serve you
Devoid of this [?]
My profits, I'm pretty sure of it
Second hand nature, it's easy, no help is needed
The comfortability in my own skin you can see it
Say you feel the way I feel, I'm sorry but I don't believe it
See, happiness is something you can't buy
But when you find it you feel like you winning at life by a landslide
It takes time but I've been patient man, if nothing else
Because everything ain't always as it seems, come see for yourself
