

Imperfections

K.A.A.N.

Give you my love, give you my heart
Give you my soul, give you my fucking all (All, all, all)
Pray we survive, livin' high
In the sky, hope we never fall (Fall, fall, fall)
Reachin' the limits they told us we never would Never imagined we ever could
We wanted everything we seen
Lookin' for the truth that's in between
We survived and that's my enemies
I believe we can do anything
Make a way and find
What if it don't exist?
I been down, I been out, but I never quit
I been lost in the sound of these melodies
Good Lord, it's a beautiful tendency
My intuition has been tellin' me
Don't buy the bullshit these niggas been sellin' me
Please, yeah

I got no fears left to adhere
I just been goin' through these growin' pains
The motions
It's up and down, you win some, you lose some
Shit, it's all the same
Yeah, I know
No-one is perfect
What's your purpose?
Hope you find it 'fore you go insane
Just remain focused, stay humble, and be grateful
It could all change

Peace is attainable if you believe in yourself, nigga
Money, it comes and it goes so don't focus on wealth, figure
Uh, you could be average or rise to the occasion
If you open up your eyes you'll see this life can be amazin'
You can get anything you want depending upon your persuasion
What I learned is it's a marathon, it's all about your patience
Don't get sidetracked and stall out from other's expectations
You'll be fine, give it time, make sure that you dedicated
Don't let setbacks define who you are, stay motivated
Positivity's infections, let that feelin' procreate
Then you do everything that you pursue
It's true, but only if you knew
That anything is possible
There's nothing you can never do
Uh, yeah

I got no fears left to adhere
I just been goin' through these growin' pains
The motions
It's up and down, you win some, you lose some
Shit, it's all the same
Yeah, I know
No-one is perfect
What's your purpose?
Hope you find it 'fore you go insane
Just remain focused, stay humble, and be grateful

It could all change
