Never

K.A.A.N.

Fuck movin' backwards
We're pushin' forward
Yeah, fuck survive, we gon' thrive, this I know it
And for my life, Lord knows, I keep goin'
And even when I'm down bad, I never show it
Know it, know it, know it
Never judge a man by his current circumstances, never
Never ask a question if you don't really want the answers, never
Never show your motherfucking hand, nigga, never, never
Never throw the motherfucking towel in, never, never

Never once gave up on myself
Never once asked niggas for help
Never once claimed something I wasn't
Never once told hoes that I love 'em
Never once walked around with my hands out
Never once bite the fingers that feed ya
Never once veered away from my plan A
I just made a way, please believe me
It's easy to call it quits
It's easy to throw a fit
It's easy to sabotage yourself 'cause people not convinced
It's difficult to stay the course
It's difficult to see shit through
When the times get hard and you feel down bad
Nigga, what is you gon' do?
When you really got shit to prove
And people depend on you
How you gon' feel when you come up short?
It's not that comfortable
You gon' let that pride you got aside get the best of you?
Never waste your time, better stay on that grind
If you want a better view
Yes, it's true
All this bullshit happens for a reason
People change, people leave
They're like seasons
It's hard to see the bright side when you're grievin'
To keep your head held high, it isn't easy

Fuck movin' backwards
We're pushin' forward
Yeah, fuck survive, we gon' thrive, this I know it
And for my life, Lord knows, I keep goin'
And even when I'm down bad, I never show it
Know it, know it, know it
Never judge a man by his current circumstances, never
Never ask a question if you don't really want the answers, never
Never show your motherfucking hand, nigga, never, never
Never throw the motherfucking towel in, never, never

I know it gets worse each daily
Feelin' like you can't take it
Don't know how you'll make it
I know inside you vacant
It's hard to replace what you feel
Everyone in this world is takin'

Trials and tribulations
Shit can drive you crazy
I'm takin' time
To myself, I think I just need to unwind
I got too much on my motherfucking mind
I can't look back, I can't look back, I can't die
I never once reached my full potential
Never once took no for an answer
Never once gave in to my fears
Never once gave a fuck 'bout expectations
Let me make it clear
Never once folded from the pressure
You can see that I'm still here
Never once though this life was easy
We embrace it over here
Yeah

Fuck movin' backwards
We're pushin' forward
Yeah, fuck survive, we gon' thrive, this I know it
And for my life, Lord knows, I keep goin'
And even when I'm down bad, I never show it
Know it, know it, know it
Never judge a man by his current circumstances, never
Never ask a question if you don't really want the answers, never
Never show your motherfucking hand, nigga, never, never
Never throw the motherfucking towel in, never, never
