

Think your alright

I don't think I really got it
I don't think that I can get over all of my problems
I've been thinking 'Who the fuck am I to disagree? '
I heard I'm pretty dope so I guess I gotta oblige
Inside, I been plotting on a way that we can elevate
A massacre to chop up your skin I never hesitate
I put a lot of time into the craft, I make it resonate
I regulate with repetition, I could be the greatest
But half of me illogical, the other half elated
Practice on the pages that I got in my attendant mind
I minimize the ignorance
So in a minute I make it relatable
Evade the negativity at all costs
Tryna find my way I'm feelin' so lost
Finally in the zone, I gotta focus
But that can be an issue, I'm addicted to the work
It's all I ever wanna do, pursue the purpose that I'm pleading for
And need it more than pity man
Than minuscule opinions
Picking apart the immaculate
Happily apathetic and actually authentic
This sentence is sentimental like the words are just a piece of my soul, law
d
I transcended to the artist that I wanna be
I demonstrate my dominance
A derelict with dialect
My etiquette is excellence, I dedicate my all to this
I solemnly swear that I serenade with selections
And different cadences to kill it Really givin' that in this and
Anyone that wants the truth that we present to be identified
I live a meager life
I'm motivated by progression cause a year ago nobody paid attention to the k id
And I'm persistent with the effort, document my decoration
Dedicated to the death of me, definitely concerned
That I prefer to be a purist
Not perjuring any verses
Only way to get it off of my chest, oh Lawd!
If it's a problem I solve it privately, polish 'em off
I punish with powerful poems, compose a doper creation
Case and point I'm steadily provin' this ain't a lucid dream
I used to be infatuated, now it's just reality, I'm managing my temperament, my time to capitalize isn't infinite, the wisdom I'm attaining from trial a nd effort is priceless
I promise I'm putting the music before my sanity
Sing you a lullaby with alliteration and empathy
The lack of recognition is starting to fuel my energy
You know you made it when you receivin' hate from an enemy
Your relevance was never an option, here's the synopsis
Said I'm knockin' out whoever you considerin' the king
I'll kick him off the throne, I want it, I'mma take it as my property
And properly prepare to go to war with any challenger
Battle in Colosseums
People check for me to finish

I'm reminicing of the legends that left remarkable legacies
I said that I'm ahead of my time, I am
You can never understand the head space I'm in
I live and I'm writing about it
Giving a lyrical ballad
Workin' on findin' a balance
Dealin' with every challenge, but It's a struggle, meticulously adjustin' my train of thought to be positive
Transform to a pheonix
And we just tryna give you something you remember
We the illest nigga don't ever forget it, lawd!
And we just tryna give you something you remember
We the illest nigga don't ever forget it, lawd!
And we just tryna give you something you remember
We the illest nigga don't ever forget it, lawd!
And we just tryna give you something you remember
We the illest nigga don't ever forget it, lawd!
