K.A.A.N.

So if I may start by insulting your intelligence, with what is called the most elementary lesson. The thing that we should've learned before we learned 1 through 3 and A,B,C, but somehow was overlooked.

Who the best? Who the greatest?
Who the brightest and newest?
Who the coldest? Who the dopest?
Who is missing and truant?

Under-informed and over-influenced, there's too much consuming
They wither away to nothing, we blossom, we shinin', we bloomin'

We minin', they martyrs, we marchin', they made us targets for marksman

My motive has been the same, it's to make a livin', survive and prosper

Maneuver through all these traps they laid out for me to falter
Reachin' farther recently, realize that I can't get caught up
These mind games that they play are straight from the mental slaughter

The lion's share that they fightin' over, fortune's unfoldin'
The Mayan calendar saying that it's already over

They poisonin' our food, is anybody really sober?

They gave us false prophets, is there even an ayatollah?

I heard it's all a simulation, there ain't nothing real

Memories on microchips, spinnin' 'round like a ferris wheel

We ridin' still, I check the mirror and double park in parallel

Whip is like a spaceship, our dimension's never parallel

Think outside the parallelogram and hexagon

Fightin' with my demons, I been swingin' in this octagon

Remain calm, I seen the snakes so I suggest you mow your lawn

The summer's hot so some'll plot, that's when they start to bearin' arms

Like In-n-Out, just nothin' new, the same thing is going on

But day by day I make improvements, some of y'all just carry on

Just an image you're reflectin' on your phone
