

The Debt Ceiling

K.A.A.N.

You know it's something that we need

Money make the world go 'round
Money make the world go 'round
Money make the world go 'round
(Money)

Here's a key to survive on
Nigga go get a dollar bill
Keep receipts to deposits
Until you stack up a hundred mill
Resupplyin' these [?] to become millionaires
What you see ain't unique
We been witnessing this shit for years
Now it's clear
All of the smoke and mirrors have now disappeared
What do you fear?
Financial collapses causing green tears
So it appears
Perhaps you [?] accept this shit as is

So I hope you can swim cause the ship is sinking fast
Attempting to keep your head above water but then you drown
They feedin' you bullshit and they tell you don't look around
Give us apps to cause attention deficit and now we bound
This spiritual warfare is leaving bodies on the ground

Political villains and financial crimes
This the type of shit you read in the New York Times
Got me questionin' my sanity, are we all blind?
This reality enough to make you lose your mind

They all stealin', they all stealin', nah
The debt ceilin', the debt ceilin', nah
They all stealin', they all stealin', nah
The debt ceilin', the debt ceilin', nah

So how does a capitalist capitalize
On the masses they minimize
When they addin' up the profits they maximize
And they vandalize
It's all about losses and gains
You might get victimized
The bank is playin' games with yo funds
They don't get penalized
[?] monopoly topics
Trickle down economics is not the way to double profits
Avoidin' losses
Political gangs got leaders, they live like crime bosses
[?] working in retirements is where they cost you

Political villains and financial crimes
This the type of shit you read in the New York Times
Got me questionin' my sanity, are we all blind?
This reality enough to make you lose your mind

They all stealin', they all stealin', nah

The debt ceilin', the debt ceilin', nah
They all stealin', they all stealin', nah
The debt ceilin', the debt ceilin', nah
