

Time Fly's

K.A.A.N.

I can feel the waves when the tide rise
Starin' at the sun on the west side
Going up I let 'em see my best side
I'm rolling up some weed and watching time fly
It ain't ever been enough for me
It was just us, we ain't need the company
I don't trust much, I ain't moving comfortably
I'm only with my confidants, that's enough for me

I get high to balance all the lows now
Manifest it all, I'm feeling profound
Trying to bloom like a lotus, tryna grow out
Nothing's overnight, I took the long route
It's a process
I'm jumping over hurdles, dodging all the nonsense
1991 they made a monster, I'm a problem
You gone need an army if you thinking you can stop this
I been locked in, I been locked in
They gone really try to tell me everything I can't be Charge it to the game, I gotta treat it like a bank fee
Now I know I got it, when I started I was anxious Lost in the deep, I brought it back to the mainland

I can feel the waves when the tide rise
Starin' at the sun on the west side
Going up I let 'em see my best side
I'm rolling up some weed and watching time fly
It ain't ever been enough for me
It was just us, we ain't need the company
I don't trust much, I ain't moving comfortably
I'm only with my confidants, that's enough for me

These mothafuckas criticize, they just giving out opinions now
I stuck to the plan, I swear I got it all figured out
I know I chose a different route, I know my lane, I stay on mine
This shit like a state of mind, my God
Feeling different, feeling distant
I can't connect with what I see
Tunnel vision, no limits
On what I feel that I can be
My vision, precision
I'm dotting my "I's" and crossing my "T's"
Running in place that's not for me
Gotta keep it going till I leave
Only concerned with what I need
Putting my heart in the art I give Prototypical that's never me
I get lost in the breeze
Aim for the top that's a reach
I was just tryna live free, please

I can feel the waves when the tide rise
Starin' at the sun on the west side
Going up I let 'em see my best side
I'm rolling up some weed and watching time fly
It ain't ever been enough for me
It was just us, we ain't need the company

I don't trust much, I ain't moving comfortably
I'm only with my confidants, that's enough for me
