

22 Missed Calls

Kadebostany

The party's almost done but we still haven't said anything at all
And in the morning light all of my demons can put on a fun show

And I swear, if I could, if I could I'd do it all again
Do it all again
But I care only when, only when it all comes to an end

Twenty-two missed calls from life
Always waiting for the right time
What if it has passed me by
But I never could reply

It started with the spark I didn't notice how it turned into fire
And once I burned my skin so hard, it felt like it was love at first sight

And I swear, if I could, if I could, if I could
And I swear, if I could, if I could I'd do it all again
Do it all again
But I care only when, only when it all comes to an end
And I swear, if I could, if I could I would go back in time
But I care only when, only when I cross a borderline

Twenty-two missed calls from life
Always waiting for the right time
What if it has passed me by
But I never could reply

Twenty-two missed calls from life
Always waiting for the right time
What if it has passed me by
But I never could reply

So this is the end
I've made up my mind
Tried to call back million times
But now I'm the one left with no reply

Just silence on the line
Just silence on the line
Just silence on the line

And I swear, if I could, if I could, I would go back in time
But I care only when, only when I cross a borderline
And I swear, if I could, if I could, I would go back in time
But I care only when, only when I cross a borderline
