

Euphoria

Kadebostany

What if you could see through my chest?
Would you ever sleep again?
How would it feel if I told you
That I'm just that kind of girl

It started with euphoria
But became your insomnia
Took away your peace of mind
It started with euphoria
But left you with insomnia
Hope that we'll get through the night

What if you could see through my chest?
Would you ever sleep again?
How would it feel if I told you
That I'm just that kind of man

Losing my friend, no amends
I can't pretend it's enough
I used to come by this road
But always ending up alone

It started with euphoria
But became your insomnia
Took away your peace of mind
It started with euphoria
But left you with insomnia
Hope that we'll get through the night

It started with euphoria
But left you with insomnia
Took away your peace of mind
It started with euphoria
But left you with insomnia
Hope that we'll get through the night
