Kailee Morgue

He calls me a hot head
Then he sets me on fire
He said that it's my fault
That he's a liar
Then he's blushing red
When he's on the phone
He said "don't worry about it, leave me alone"

He said you're only as good as you are when you are with me
So I hope you're no better, know better than to leave

I said hey you, with your world painted blue
I said fuck you, I was the brightest light you ever knew
And next time you call me yelling on the phone
And I'll say fuck you and leave me alone

Got your car running
Like you're ready to go
I'll be waiting for that apology when you come home
Then we'll talk it out
Till it comes to an end
Then we'll wake up and do it again

He said you're only as good as you are when you are with me
So I hope you're no better, know better than to leave

I said hey you, with your world painted blue
I said fuck you, I was the brightest light you ever knew
And next time you call me yelling on the phone
And I'll say fuck you and leave me alone

Cross my heart and hope to die
No happy ending for you and I
Cross my heart and hope to die
No happy ending for you and I

I said hey you, with your world painted blue
I said fuck you, I was the brightest light you ever knew
And next time you call me yelling on the phone
And I'll say fuck you and leave me alone

Yeah I'll say fuck you and leave me alone
