

This Is Why I'm Hot

Kailee Morgue

Bum me a cigarette, feed my addiction
That's what friends are for, right?
I'm coming down off a homemade prescription
Cause that's what friends are for, right?
A little disorder in my sleeping quarters
That's sounds like a good time
Bite into my lip please, whenever you kiss me
Cause that's the shit that I like

Skurting my phone calls, like I give a shit
Leather jacket, hair bleached like a cool kid
If you want something real, this is as real as it gets
Already hooked you in before the hook began

And they say I'm too personal
This company will never sell
That's quite the observation well
You can take it as it is or not
But this is why I'm fucking hot

Friday night meltdowns, but buzz cuts are in now
And baby you're still so fine
Back to the topic, the track is still rocking
And I still got the red light
Hard to describe it, but when I get excited
When risky business arrives
Too many close calls but I don't care at all
I'll never ever ever die

Skurting my phone calls, like I give a shit
Leather jacket, hair bleached like a cool kid
If you want something real, this is as real as it gets
Already hooked you in before the hook began

And they say I'm too personal
This company will never sell
That's quite the observation well
You can take it as it is or not
But this is why I'm fucking hot
This is why I'm fucking hot

And I'll never die
I'll never die, never die
Never die, never die
Never die, never die
