

Death Head

Kaki King

Check my heart check my legs
Check the nametag on the bed
I think I had an accident last night
I am safe, I'm not scared really Quite as much as I should be
Tell me if the damage here will last forever

Oh I misunderstood
This age of ours
Has forces like
A cyclone

What's your name date of birth
Do you live alone?
your emergency contacts didn't answer
This is how I got hurt
Your mind and I were no match for a runaway delivery truck and a river
Two oh six bones in the body, cracked up every one (tore up my skin and hair and eyes)

I misunderstood
This rage we have
Like love, is at
Its solstice

Check my arms check my legs
Check my stomach heart and head
But your luck says that he won't make it through the night

And now I know, it's certain
And now I know, it's certain
And now I know, it's certain
And now I know, it's certain
