Choices

Kaleida

You know what you love
You know what you love
It's only you alone, only you you're thinking of
You know what you love
You know what you love
Don't you give me shit 'cause I don't need no pushing down no m ore
Don't you give me shit 'cause I don't need no pushing down no m ore
Don't you give me shit 'cause I don't need no pushing down
You know what you love
You know what you love
Take your fucking god and tell him teach you how to love

I tell you no, no power confined
The moment will entrap you but tell me was he fine
And how could I agree, through glass so darkened
But these are my choices and choices are wrong

You know what you love
You know what you love
It's only you alone, only you you're thinking of
You know what you love
You know what you love
Don't you give me shit
Don't you, don't you give me shit
Don't you give me shit 'cause I don't need no pushing down no m ore
Take your fucking god and tell him teach you how to love
Take your fucking god and tell him teach you how to love
Take your fucking god and tell him teach you how to love

I've been fooled so low it gets me boiling
What's the use of crying
Never was a woman's will beholden
And I don't know why we don't cut free and fly
