Kaleida

I come here to be what you want
So you can't mind
And I come here to be what you need
So you can fly

Coming in need
In a world you roam
A heart takes a head of it's own

Heading in wrong
Heading in blind
A longing won't be clean
'Til it's time

'Cause I come here to be what you want
So you can't mind
And I come here to be what you need
So you can fly

Coming in need
In a world you reign
A hunger won't be quelled
'Til it's tamed

But caught up in me
And caught up in mine
Come out and read between the lines

That I come here to be what you want
So you can't mind
And I come here to be what you need
So you can fly
