

Echo Saw You

Kaleida

I've been told
To leave echoes
Lose what's old
And deal it all, begin it all and then

I've seen through
Doorways gained
What you might do
To hold it all, to hold it all in vain

So give me your hope
And give me your hand
Where are we running
We find what we can
Give me enough
To carry the new
We keep a light on, a light on
To catch the echoes of you

Well you've been well
For knowing brief
And how her visit cracked the gloom
And you keep it there, you hold it and release

So give me your hope
And give me your hand
Where are we running
We find what we can
Give me enough
To carry the new
We keep a light on, a light on
To catch the echoes of you

Echo saw you
Echo saw you
Echo saw you
