

You Are

Kalimba

You are all I've ever wanted
Every single heartbeat tells me who you are

When I first saw you in the moonlight
I never dreamed that I'd could be so lucky
I was about to give up
My life just lived it up to
What I thought it should be

But now, now that I've found you
The sun can rise again
I know we'll never rent

'Cause you are all I've ever wanted
Every single heartbeat tells me who you are
I need you lying here beside me
Staring at the heaven, counting every star
'Cause that's just who you are

So this is how it feels to love you
I never knew that I couldbe so happy
And I will never give up
I sewar I gonna live up to the man I should be

And now, now that I've found you
My heart can beat again
I know we'll never rent

'Cause you are all I've ever wanted
Every single heartbeat tells me who you are
I need you lying here beside me
Staring at the heaven, counting every star
'Cause that's just who you are

You are all I've ever wanted
Every single heartbeat tells me who you are
I need you lying here beside me
Staring at the heaven, counting every star
'Cause that's just who you are

That's just who you are
