

Divine Timing

Kamaiyah

This is divine timing
I'm on God's and on my timing
Not yours 'cause I'm grinding
I'm vibing and I'm striving, hey
They can't underrate
Or control my faith
My ancestors will give stance for me
To come fulfill out my destiny, hey

Hey, hey
Hey, hey
Hey, hey
Mhm-mm
Mhm-mm
Mhm-mm
Mhm-mm
Mhm-mm

James got cancer
Bitch, this ain't that accident
Lost my grandparents but I'm steady staying passionate
Strong black woman, know I gotta be an advocate
For those who lost hope, bad thoughts, they ain't happy, yeah
I can't slip, can't fold, ayy, ayy
And I can't give up going, ayy, ayy
So I ignore all noise, ayy, ayy
The bullshit, I avoid, ayy
One thing I enjoy is a peace of mind
Sand bowls in the room to increase the vibes
Ran all through the night, I release it, cry
If it all falls down, shit, I at least I tried

Exactly though
It's like, you feel me? When you vibrating on a certain frequency, you becoming aligned with that same energy
And it may take time and you may not understand why you going through shit
But it's like you gotta get the experience and be around them people who don't got the same energy as you to know what the fuck you do going around you, you feel me?
I experienced it
I done been in the game with people at the highest level, the most influential level
And it's like I don't wanna really be around y'all because we ain't on the same frequency
Now I can create my own vibration with the people who are in align with us and we can be them greats that other revere, you feel me?
So it's like you don't have to do nothing in life
Everything is a choice, it as an option
I could've settled and compromised my beliefs and integrity to be around those people that everybody else considered greats
But it's like I don't want it the way y'all got it
I wanna do it my way and then keep the integrity and the respect that I have for myself
And not ever have to compromise my morals and beliefs
And you don't gotta stand on that and believe that too, nigga
Everything you went through was a part of the process of your growth
Everything that you'll experience is a lesson that you have to learn

Now either you gonna let that lesson become a blessing or you gonna let it become a failure
I don't think you a nigga that's gon' fold and let, let shit fail
You gon' grow, you gon' learn, you gonna be great
And you'll be like, "Damn, I did that shit and that's why I went through that experience, that shit"
