KAMAUU

What's ha'enin'?
I'm husslin'
A has-been, within my ha-bits
Has been harassing me
My enemy
Ain't no officer, it's my ha-bits
What a hassle
I just need to have a talk with myself and...

Say, "What's ha'enin'? What's going on?"
I'm back again 'cause them ha-bit is still holding on
You hoe'in'
It's fucking you and you don't even notice...
I just wanna raise your awareness of the issue
'Cause now I can't figure how to focus

Oh, I just wanna feel important
But I keep sabotaging me
Now I gotta face these emotions
Honestly

Switch
I need a switch, five finger swear
Homies said, "Don't change", I don't care
Ain't we tryna come up in the game
If you ain't gon' change get up out my

Switch
I need a switch, five finger swear
Homies said, "Don't change", I don't care
Ain't we tryna come up in the game
If you ain't gon' switch

What's ha'enin'?
I'm winning
I'm grinning
Don't ask me about none of my feelings
That's shit folded up with the linens
I'm good, for real

See that right there's not pretending
I'm just tryna manifest some new beginnings
All my life I done been the image of the of something that diminishes
That ain't who I is

Oh, I just wanna feel important
But I keep sabotaging me
Now I gotta face these emotions
Honestly

Switch
I need a switch, five finger swear
Homies said, "Don't change", I don't care

Sheesh
Ye-bo
Yebo baby
Don't get lost and if you do, my dawg, please, don't lose your glow, baby
Or soul, so you sought the door and found the blackest hole
Hold on to your sunshine
And know that you gon' have to burn a muh'fucka, sometimes
It ain't easy
But when you're here for a greater reason
That switch
Might have to switch
In-to a switch on a enemies ass
You might have to clash
You might burn a bridge
You might have to risk everything you have
To stay on the path
Focus
