

Hello Whiskey

Kameron Marlowe

Hello whiskey, goodbye pain
Hurry up and hit me
90 proof do your thing
I've been making my rounds all over town
Come on help me wash her off my brain
Hello whiskey, goodbye pain

Since she's been gone, I've been trying to move on from her memory
I thought I was strong, guess I was wrong, hell I am
I've been tossing and turning, crying and hurting
Ain't nothing working on helping my heart at healing
I've been spinning my wheels in beer and gin
The weed and the wine, and now and then tequila
Yeah, I need ya

Hello whiskey, goodbye pain
Hurry up and hit me
90 proof do your thing
Yeah, I've been making my rounds all over town
Come on help me wash her off my brain
Hello whiskey, goodbye pain

Oh, four finger pour and here comes the floor up to hit me
Yeah, I might pick a fight, spend me a night or two in the can
Blow through my money on some buckle bunny

She's calling me honey, I'm always a sucker for flirting
And I wake up hungover with her on my shoulder, head like a boulder
Jackhammer pounding and hurting
But it'll be worth it

Hello whiskey, oh goodbye pain
I need something that hits me
90 proof through my veins
Yeah, I've been making my rounds all over town
Come on help me wash her off my brain
Hello whiskey and goodbye pain
Hello whiskey, goodbye pain
