

Leavin' To Me

Kameron Marlowe

There's a half drank whiskey bottle in the kitchen by the sink
And I lit your last Camel, now I'm sittin' in a smoke ring
And you might not be listening, but I know you can hear
Through our bedroom walls, that old Willie song
Got your blues eyes rainin' tears
Maybe I'm being selfish, I can't see another way
Just one more time for one last night
You can lay in the bed you made

I wasn't made for giving up but
There ain't much that's left of us
You already broke my heart, so just break it off
And I ain't gonna play your fool
I wasn't the one runnin' round on you, no
I ain't the bad guy, don't make me be, set me free
Yeah, but don't leave, don't leave, don't leave
Leavin' to me

We can leave it 'til tomorrow, but that won't change a thing
We get in my truck and start it up but I've had too much to drink
And it ain't just the whiskey that won't let me drive
It's the words that you can't tell me that I can't leave behind

I wasn't made for giving up but
There ain't much that's left of us
You already broke my heart, so just break it off
And I ain't gonna play your fool
I wasn't the one runnin' round on you, no
I ain't the bad guy, don't make me be, set me free
Yeah, but don't leave, don't leave, don't leave
Leavin' to me
Oh no

I wasn't made for giving up but
There ain't much that's left of us
You already broke my heart, so just break it off
